

Color a note for every 20 minutes you read.

Check in at the Library to collect what
you earn for your song.

Build your reading stamina with the

Build-a-Song Challenge

Design a unique musical composition by tracking the time you read.

How does this work?

For every 20 minutes of reading, collect a new random musical note. Use these notes to make a composition of your own design by experimenting with different ways of stringing the notes together, either on your own or with Library staff and volunteers.

Keep reading to earn more notes!

Color a note for every 20 minutes you read.

Check in at the Library to collect what
you earn for your song.

Color a note for every 20 minutes you read.

Check in at the Library to collect what you earn for your song.

The Challenge:

Create a musical masterpiece with the notes you earn, and share what you design.

Join us for the Readers Concert at the End of Summer Reading Celebration on August 10th to hear your composition and others played by a professional musician!

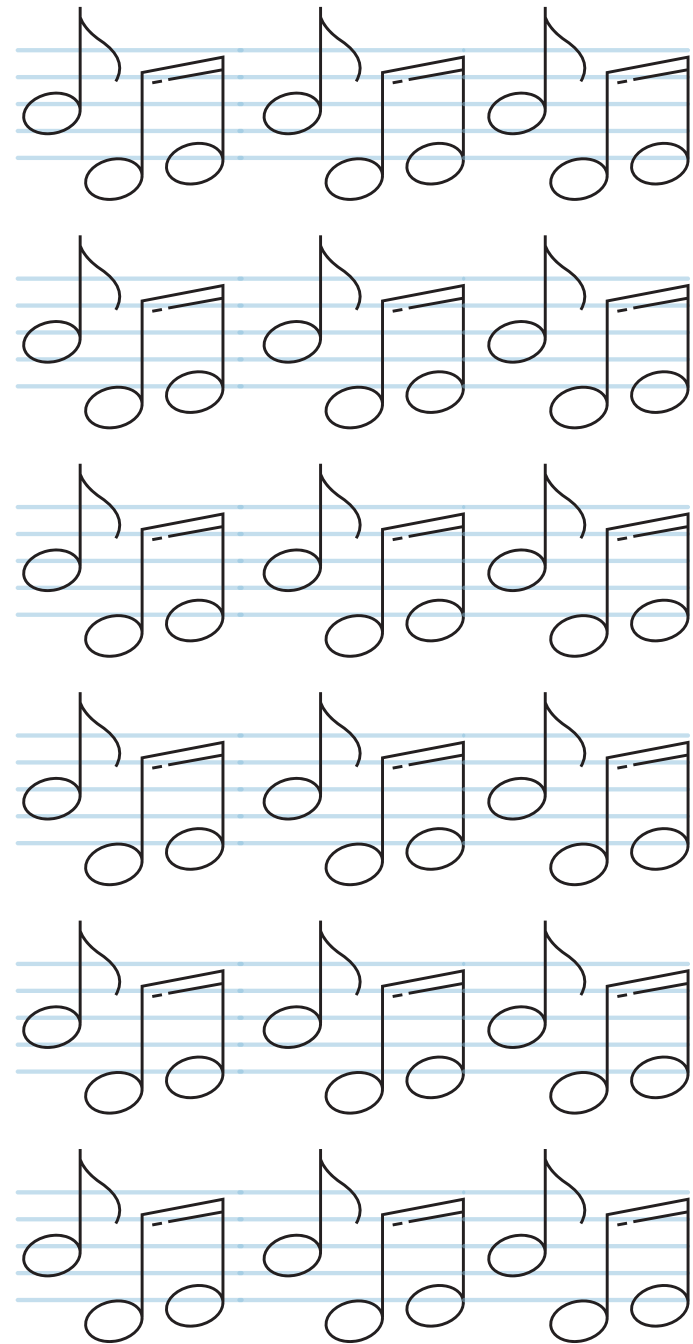

Review the Composition Criteria in the included Song Kit before turning in your musical piece.

Please share your finished work
NO LATER THAN August 5th to be included in the concert and be entered to win a selection of Community's Choice prizes.

Questions? Ask at the Library!

Color a note for every 20 minutes you read.

Check in at the Library to collect what you earn for your song.